Exhibit Hall Floor Filling Fast

Dallas, TX, September 16, 2009 CONSTRUCT2009 and the newly co-located The TFM Show completed the initial space draw this week assigning more than 180 companies to the exhibit hall floor for the June 16-19, 2009 event in Indianapolis at the Indiana Convention Center. Over 50% of the available space has been reserved by past exhibitors and new companies who have committed to showcase their products and services to the industrial, institutional and commercial building professional.

"CONSTRUCT is a phenomenal place to get your products in front of the decision makers who really want to get to know your products." declares Anne Marie Roeper, from Accuride.

Tom Cindric, Director, Hanley Wood Exhibitions, states, "We are very satisfied with the initial participation and anticipate that the dual event will fill the exhibit hall floor with qualified, expert exhibitors." The CONSTRUCT2009 and The TFM Shows are positioned to be rich in industry resources, educational seminars, networking opportunities, technical tours, spouse and student programs and CSI member events. "Not only are we building on a sturdy exhibitor base for both shows," Jayne Dalton, Show Manager notes, "the two separate conference programs will be robust. Scheduled to not conflict with exhibit hall activities, the 125 sessions will provide AIA LUs and HSWs, CSI CENs and the opportunity for participants to rise to the forefront of industry knowledge."

The re-designed event encompasses the planning, design, engineering, specifying, construction, renovation and operation of the commercial building industry. CONSTRUCT and The TFM Show will continue to grow and adapt to the changing needs of architects, engineers, facility managers/owners, specifiers, designers, general contractors and anyone involved in the commercial building industry.

The exhibits and education will take place June 16-19, 2009 at the Indiana Convention Center, Indianapolis, Indiana in conjunction with the 53rd CSI Annual Convention. The live floor plan and Exhibitor list are now available at CONSTRUCTshow.com and TheTFMshow.com. Exhibitors can continue to reserve space to participate in the event by contacting Jeff Rogers at 972.536.6367 or jrogers@hanleywood.com. Online Attendee registration opens late February 2009.
