

PRESS RELEASE

AUSTRIAN SOFTSOLUTION announces strategic partnership with Ohio based FeneTech Inc.

Waidhofen/Ybbs, Austria

Softsolution is well known world-wide through intelligent software and technology concepts for the flat glass industry. Products include Virtual Digitizing (from a digital photo to a CNC cut and processed template), SCAD (powerful CAD/CAM system for non standard shapes), LSC LineScanner (measuring and defect detection scanning solution) and other products. The company has just concluded an exclusive cooperation agreement with FeneTech Inc. for the North American market, including the US, Canada and Mexico. Effective immediately FeneTech Inc. will take over all sales, service and support activities for Softsolution products in these territories.

Christian Krenn, Sales Manager of SOFTSOLUTION states:

“Softsolution always tries to form alliances with professionally organized, well known and established sales partners for market places world-wide. After the first meeting with the management of Fenetech Inc., we immediately knew that this is the right partner for us. We are proud in announcing this partnership with Fenetech Inc., who has been voted the #1 software company in terms of meeting full customer satisfaction and offering excellent service and support. Together we are now able to serve these markets perfectly and introduce our new highly innovative technology, such as the LSC LineScanner to the North American market place”.

Ron Crowl, President of Fenetech Inc. adds:

“When evaluating potential partners we look for companies that bring significant new technology that can add tremendous value to existing as well as future clients, as well as the ability to integrate this technology into our core FeneVision family of software products.

Softsolution is a well respected global company, FeneTech is pleased to have the opportunity to bring their innovative products to the North American market. At FeneTech, we pride ourselves in providing excellent customer service and support and we see this same customer focus in Softsolution's corporate culture making this partnership a sure win for North American glass fabricators."

Horst Mertes, responsible for the newly launched FeneVision GLASS ERP solution for FeneTech Inc. in North America and on world-wide markets comments: "I have had many years of excellent experience with the management and staff members of Softsolution and all of their products. This cooperation will be the perfect fit for the industry".
