

For Immediate Release
November 28, 2007

Contact: Brian Pitman
Director of Marketing and Communications brian@glasswebsite.com

ANA RELEASES 16TH GLASS INFORMATIONAL BULLETIN

(TOPEKA) - The Glass Association of North America (ANA) today announced the release of its 16th Glass Informational Bulletin (GIB), a series of educational documents available to the industry as a free download on their website. Titled Glass Floors and Stairs, the GIB takes a close look at considerations for designers and glaziers when implementing a glass floor or staircase. Using glass in these applications has become a popular design aesthetic in the past five years.

“Our newest informational bulletin is focused on many of the issues designers should consider when using glass as a flooring application,” said Ashley Charest, ANA’s Account Executive. “Everything from load issues to slip resistance and modest considerations are covered in this document.” This bulletin was developed by the ANA Laminating Division’s Glass Flooring Task Group.

Since their original creation, ANA’s Glass Information Bulletins have been downloaded over a quarter million times from the website at www.glasswebsite.com. Visitors to the site’s TechCenter will be able to add this GIB to their library beginning today.