GRAHAM UNVEILS ENHANCED WINDOW AND DOOR WEBSITE FOR QUICKER, EASIER INFORMATION ACCESS

York, PA -- Graham Architectural Products, a leading manufacturer of architectural aluminum windows and doors, has launched its third-generation company website. The web address remains the same: www.grahamwindows.com.

"Graham customers, architects, and specifiers will all find the new website to be both 'easy on the eyes' and intuitive," said Graham president/CEO, Brian Hurley. "Best of all, it's a real time-saver."

Enhancements and improvements include:

- A redesigned interface with sliding product navigator bar and contextual page navigation

- Optimized pages that load twice as fast as previous versions
- New updated CAD files, including PDF versions and in-page file preview
- A new search engine for immediate access to specific information that users seek
